Acting & presentation, a masterclass for singers by Gregor Luetje

Gregor Luetje

In his work opera director and coach Gregor Luetje focusses on the discovery and upbringing of young singers'/actors' talents. Without making use of provocation he manages to evoke emotions by looking for and finding the identification of each student with their individual role.

He does not intend to put himself into the centre of attention by rare concepts, but focusses entirely on the works, the students and their needs. His friendly being quickly gains trust amongst students, and the focus on the work of opera helps them to discover the essence of the piece and therefore to even sing better than before.
